

Mary Kate Gobleck, president of Reliance Merchant Services, and Anthony Moore, senior counselor, Teen House, Kids in Crisis, prepare dinner at the Kids in Crisis campus in Cos Cob.

Reliance Merchant Services helps Kids in Crisis program

Reliance Merchant Services Inc. in Ridgefield has become a corporate partner of Kids in Crisis.

“Just as Reliance Merchant Services is focused on providing the best customer service to our clients, we are also committed to supporting the communities we serve,” said Mary Kate Gobleck, Reliance president. “Our relationship with Kids in Crisis is a tremendously rewarding experience for our team.”

Reliance Merchant Services will donate 25% of profits on new merchant accounts signed between Oct. 1 and Dec. 31 to Kids in Crisis for the life of that account.

Kids in Crisis provides free, temporary shelter, therapeutic counseling, comprehensive medical care, and specialized educational support for children throughout Fairfield County struggling with a wide range of problems including abuse, neglect, abandonment, family health issues, and family conflict.

Ms. Gobleck and her staff recently pitched in at the Kids in Crisis campus in Greenwich, purchasing dishes for the Children’s House and then returning to prepare and serve dinner for the residents.

Reliance Merchant Services provides credit card and debit card processing for businesses, along with all other point-of-sale products a business may need.

For more information about this promotion, contact Sandie Griffin, vice president of client services: sgriffin@reliancemerchantservices.com or 438-5961. For information regarding Kids In Crisis visit kidsincrisis.org.